Department of Psychology

Colorado State University

FROM THE CHAIR:

Through the summer faculty and staff have been very busy and were successful in receiving over $2 million in new grants and awards. For the last 15 years the department of Psychology here at Colorado State University has been in the top 100 (out of over 650) Psychology departments in receiving grant funded awards from the federal government as found in the NSF report <http://www.nsf.gov/statistics/rdexpenditures/>. We are currently ranked 93, however I expect that our current level of funding at almost $5 million will move us into the top fifty programs in the next annual report. With only 25 current faculty members this is an extraordinary achievement and speaks to the strength of our faculty's research. This extraordinary faculty, graduate students and staff will be moving to a new building in July of 2010 which is currently under construction just south of the Clark building. This building will house both the Department of Psychology and the Department of Human Development and Family Studies, along with classrooms and laboratories. Please visit our website for an ongoing view of the progress in this building. Exciting things continue to happen here in the department even through these difficult fiscal times.

The Journal of Organizational Behavior is celebrating its 30th Volume; and as a part of the celebrations, they will be publishing a "virtual issue" on the JOB website (<http://www3.interscience.wiley.com/journal/4691/home>), comprising the eight most influential articles published in the journal since its founding in 1980. Dr. Peter Chen's 2000 article, "Why negative affectivity should not be controlled in job stress research: don't throw out the baby with the bath water,” published in Volume 21, Issue 1 (pp. 79-95) of the Journal of Organizational Behavior, has been selected for this honor.

Dr. Tammi Vacha-Haase has been selected to participate in Course 4 of the Advocating for Clinical Excellence TRANSDISCIPLINARY PALLIATIVE CARE EDUCATION Project in Pasadena, CA.

NIH approved Dr. Carol Seger's nomination for the Cognitive Neuroscience study section and she will start her term on July 1. This is a 6 year term, through June 30 2015 requiring two meetings per year.

Dr. Anne Cleary was elected a Fellow of Division 3 of APA in 2009.

Emeritus Professor Richard M. Suinn was on the symposium "A Model for Diversity in the Science and Practice of Psychology at the 2009 APA annual convention in Toronto. He was also an invited mentor invited by APA President James Bray for the convention's special mentoring event, and a participant in the "Up Close and Personal" plenary session involving Dr. Philip Zimbardo.

Dr. Kim Henry was awarded a grant for the Developmental Predictors of Child Maltreatment and Domestic Violence (R01), P.I. Terence Thornberry, Ph.D. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Role: Co-I, 2009-2012

Dr. Jennifer Harman was one of 100 scientists nationwide who was invited to the annual APA science leadership conference. The SciLC provides a venue for psychology's scientific leadership to gather, develop a shared agenda, and plan for the future of scientific psychology. This year's topic is "Enhancing the Nation's Health Through Psychological Science." Dr. Harman will be attending this in mid-November and meeting with our congressional leaders while she is there.

Emeritus professor Dr. Jerry Benson will be 95 on October 17th. His family is throwing a birthday party for him at the Winslow.

Dr. Justin Lehmler was recently asked to join the editorial boards of two social psychology journals: Personal Relationships, and Social Influence.

Dr. Silvia Sara Canetto was elected Fellow of the Association for Psychological Science, and in September of 2009 she delivered an invited Master Lecture at the School of Public Health, University of Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico. Earlier in the summer she was an invited speaker in Colorado, Italy, and Canada.

Dr. Kurt Kraiger traveled to Washington DC (10/8-10/9) to meet with Carol Goodheart, APA's President-Elect, and Paula Skedsvold, the Executive Director of the Federation of Associations in Behavioral & Brain Sciences.

A team of I/O Psychologists from the Civil Service College of Singapore are traveling to Fort Collins and the Colorado State I/O program on October 20th to meet our students and faculty. The team provides talent management services to the government in Singapore. Their objectives for the visit are:

1) Leadership Development Programmes/Consultancy

To learn more about applied/consultancy work done by our faculty.

2) Possible Research Collaborations

They are also interested to gain insights to research and applications done our faculty. Where possible, they would like to explore opportunities to work with our department on overlapping interest areas.

3) Recruitment of Graduate Students to join our Company as Consultants

In the quest to wider their search for suitable applicants to join CSC Consultants They are hoping to speak to your department and maybe your students.

Dr. Paul Bell was awarded a $10,000 supplement for “Improved Methodology for Assessing Acceptability of Resource Management Decisions,” from the USDA Forest Service, 2006-2010, and he was also awarded a $59,000 supplement for “Metrics of Human Responses to Natural Sound Environments,” from the National Park Service, 2007-2010.

The Rocky Mountain Psychological Association Executive Committee announced that beginning in 2010, the annual Environmental Psychology Symposium will be named the Bell/Loomis Environmental Psychology Symposium. Both Drs. Paul Bell and Ross Loomis are RMPA Past Presidents.

Drs. George Thornton and Alyssa Gibbons paper “Validity of Assessment Centers for Personnel Selection” is the lead article in a special issue of Human Resource Management Review focusing on Employee Selection at the Beginning of the 21st Century.

The final report “Making New Links: 12th Grade and Beyond” of a technical panel including Dr. George Thornton provided the National Assessment Governing Board with a set of research proposals to examine the ability of the National Assessment of Educational Progress (“The Nation’s Scorecard”) to measure preparedness of 12th graders to engage in higher education, to work in organizations, and to enter military training.

Two articles by Dr. George Thornton appear in succession in the same issue of The Psychologist Manager: “Managing assessment center practices in the context of employment discrimination litigation” (with Christina Wilson, Dr. Rachel Johnson, Dr. Dawn April Rogers); and “Industrial/organizational psychologists as expert witnesses in employment discrimination litigation: Descriptions and prescriptions” (with Drs. Tasha Eurich and Rachel Johnson).

Dr. George Thornton and colleague Nigel Povah of the UK have a contract with Glower Publishers to prepare an edited book “Assessment and Development Centres: Strategies for Global Talent Management.” Chapters will be authored by contributors from around the world who discuss how the assessment center method is being used to foster better talent management in the global business environment.

Beginning in the Spring 2010, the Campus Corps program will be launched as an interdisciplinary effort between Human Development and Family Studies, Psychology, Health and Exercise Science, and Spanish. This program is being funded by a $500,000 grant to promote involvement of college students in service to the community. The program will involve mentoring between CSU students and at-risk youth from the Center for Family Outreach, an organization in Fort Collins. Research indicates that positive mentoring relationships can make a significant difference in the lives of at-risk youth. As part of Campus Corps, CSU students will study and employ best mentoring practices, learn about adolescent development, and implement wellness planning. The mentoring will involve weekly sessions that include individual tutoring, group meals, exercise and wellness, and positive enrichment activities. Under faculty supervision, CSU students will plan and implement activities with the youth based on their needs and interests.

Dr. Larry Bloom was the keynote speaker Oct 17th at the annual banquet of the Colorado Cross Dressers Convention in Salida, Colorado.

Dr. Bryan Dik was recently awarded $9300 from the Christian Scholars Foundation to support the project entitled "Establishing calling and vocation in the psychology of working."

Drs. Bryan Dik and Kurt Kraiger were recently awarded $482,906 from the U.S. Department of Education to fund their project entitled "Vocational Workforce Assessment as a Strategy to Inform Adult Decision-Making about Participation in Community College Education." The project will assist in developing an online vocational assessment system that will be customized for use in the community college system in Colorado, piloted, and experimentally tested.

Dr. Lorann Stallones, MPH, PhD (Fellow of the American College of Epidemiology) began her duties as President of the American College of Epidemiology on September 15, 2009. The American College of Epidemiology is an organization of over 1,000 epidemiologists that serves the interests of the profession and its members through advocating for issues pertinent to epidemiology, a credential based admission and promotion process, sponsorship of scientific meetings, publications and educational activities, and recognizing outstanding contributions to the field.

Advising News

There are currently 975 undergraduate majors in psychology. 920 have psychology as their primary major; the remaining 55 have psychology listed as their secondary major. As an advising staff, we work diligently to make sure students are in the right major. A total of 105 students changed from psychology to another major in summer and fall terms. 122 students, however, found psychology to be their academic home and change their majors into psychology during this same timeframe.

In the month of October, the advising staff completed instructing the PSY 192 Psychology Freshman Seminar. Nearly 180 students were enrolled in the three sections of this class. Individual advising meetings were held with each of these students in an effort to assess the fit of psychology as a major, review four year plans, and discuss transition to CSU.

Undergraduate and Psi Chi News:

Ana Senior, Honors Program Psychology Student, was selected for an ASCSU 2009 Pacesetter Award. The Pacesetter Award recognizes students for their character, their understanding of diversity, and their ability to balance academic and extra-curricular activities.

This semester, your local Psi Chi chapter at Colorado State University has been very active. During the beginning of the semester, Psi Chi officers were involved in Ram Welcome, a welcome weekend for incoming freshmen students, as well as a Student Involvement Expo to invite new members to apply to Psi Chi and become active members. Throughout the semester, the Psi Chi officers and members were involved with many different fundraising activities and service events. We volunteered three nights with Ram Ride and have had an amazing member turn out! Ram Ride is a safe ride program that provides a safe ride home for students who need one. We hosted the annual Fall Mixer, where we provide food and an environment to meet professors and graduate students. We participated in the Cans Around the Oval, which is a food drive for the local Food Bank.

Laura Chavez came and spoke to us from The Chicago School of Professional Psychology, about their program, and the process of applying to Graduate School, and building a strong application. We also had Dr. Hartung from the University of Wyoming come down and talk to us about their Graduate programs and research with their local Psi Chi Chapter, and we in turn spoke to them about the Graduate programs and research here at CSU! We have had a very productive fall semester, and we look forward to spring!

Ty Duffield's senior honors thesis, supervised by Dr. Bryan Dik was published in the Graduate Student Journal of Psychology. Ty graduated in December 2008 with a BS in Psychology and now is in a Master's program in clinical psychology at Central Florida University

Alumni News:

Alysa Stanton, the first African-American woman in the world ever to be ordained a rabbi, will be ordained by Rabbi David Ellenson, President of Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion (HUC-JIR). Alysa received her B.S. in Psychology (1988) and M.Ed. in Counseling and Multiculturalism (1992).

Dr. Donald Moss (1973 Experimental) has been working on the development of a drug to treat Alzheimer's disease for several years. Within the past several months, a biotech start-up company has been organized around his patent and invention and he hopes that it will be commercialized soon. Information about the company and the project can be found at www.senexta.com. The drug that he developed, methanesulfonyl fluoride, is listed under the laboratory name of SNX-001.

Joan Springen Muser, (B.S Psychology '64., M.S. Experimental Psych '67), was among the Psi Chi founding group of students 45 years ago. Gerald Benson was their Advisor.

Dr. Melanie M. Domenech Rodriguez (Counseling 1999) has been elected as a Member-at-Large of APA's Division 45

Dr. Trish Kaminski (Counseling 1996) will be the new training director at the University of North Texas beginning this fall.

Col. Cheri A. Provancha will take command of Letterkenny Army Depot on Friday. Provancha, who served 15 months in Iraq, will become the first female to assume command of Letterkenny in its 68-year history. Provancha, Letterkenny's 46th commanding officer, has served in a variety of campaigns. She served as maintenance officer in the 3rd Combat Equipment Company for Operation Desert Storm and commanded the 25th Brigade Support Battalion, 1st Brigade, 25th Infantry Division during Operation Iraqi Freedom. While commanding the Stryker Brigade support battalion in Iraq, she was quoted twice in the Washington Post about women's role in the military: -- In May 2005 -- "The Army has to understand the regulation that says women can't be placed in direct fire situations is archaic and not attainable." -- In December 2006 -- "In the 1980s when a male soldier walks in the door, the expectation is they are competent. The woman on the other hand, it was 'I've got to see what you have before I give you that level of confidence.' Now when I walk in the door, I feel like the guys do." Most recently, Provancha completed an assignment as the assistant chief of staff, support operations in the 3rd Sustainment Command in Fort Knox, Ky. Her section was in charge of distributing absentee ballots in October 2008, and Provancha was photographed in Balad with California Secretary of State Debra Bowen to promote absentee voting by military personnel. Her section also opened a water bottling plant in Iraq in October 2008 on time. Born in San Diego, she has a degree in psychology from Colorado State University and a master's degree in public administration from Golden Gate University. She also received a master's of strategic studies from the Army War College, Carlisle Barracks. As a distinguished military graduate, she was commissioned as a lieutenant of ordnance in 1984 from Colorado State University. Her awards include the Bronze Star Medal, Valorous Unit Award, Joint Meritorious Unit Award, United Nations Medal-Haiti and the Combat Action Badge during Operation Iraqi Freedom III. The $11.6 million complex will house the depot's missile certification and repair capability for Patriot PAC 2 and HAWK missiles. The missile work is being relocated from Red River Army Depot in Texarkana, Texas, as part of the 2005 Base Realignment and Closure.

Chelsy Lum attended CSU from 2002 - 2006 and graduated with my bachelors degree in Psychology. She is now a first year Counseling graduate student at California State University, Fullerton.

Marilee Clark received her BS in Psychology in Spring 2008 and is currently attending graduate school for Counseling Psychology at UNC Greeley. She attended the annual APA convention and had the following poster presentation at the convention:
Woodson, C., Softas-Nall, B., Clark, M., & Riedel, J. (2009, August). Family characteristics and readiness to change problematic alcohol use. Poster presentation at the annual APA Convention, Toronto, CA.

Graduate Students:

The CDPHE published an article that highlights Dr. Peter Chen's SMART Team's Project Safety Net grant led by two present and past OHP trainees: Taylor Moore and Dr. Konstantin Cigularov.

Lucinda Baker (PBS) applied for and was accepted to attend a course on the Structure, Function and Development of the Visual System at the Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory on Long Island. The course ran from July 1-14, 2009, and featured leaders in the field of vision science lecturing on the latest research. Lucinda was awarded a $1500 stipend from Cold Spring Harbor Lab to help defray the course tuition.

On October 5, 2009 Lucinda Baker spent the day at Poudre High School doing a lecture/demonstration on the human brain for AP and IB Psychology students. This is the sixth year that Lucinda has visited Ms. Bonnie Cowen's classes and given the students the opportunity to examine human brains, which are generously loaned every year by Mark Frasier and Tod Clapp of the Department of Biomedical Sciences here at CSU.

Lucinda Baker was hired to teach Introductory Psychology at Front Range Community College this semester, and she is enjoying it very much!

Gretchen Nurse (Applied Social) has been nominated by our student-athletes to receive the Waterpik Excellence in Education Award. The Waterpik Excellence in Education Award winner is publicly acknowledged on the scoreboard during a CSU football game (tentatively CSU vs. Wyoming).

On Sept 17 Kate Martin (Counseling) successfully defended my doctoral dissertation titled "Psychological Predictors of Sexual Satisfaction among Married Heterosexual Older Adults using the Interpersonal Exchange Model of Sexual Satisfaction". Kate also got married on September 4th and now goes by Kate L. Martin Hinrichs. Congratulations Kate!

Devi, M.S., (Applied Social), was awarded a travel grant from the Society for the Psychological Study of Social Issues to attend her first meeting of the American Psychological Association.

Erin Winterrowd, M.S., (Counseling), was awarded an APA Travel Award to present a poster entitled "Depictions of ethnicity and gender in elementary school science materials" at the 2009 Toronto Meeting of APA. She also received a CSU WINS travel award.

Samantha Anne Farro, (Counseling), defended her dissertation entitled "Educational experiences and challenges of undergraduates in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics fields in the Ronald E. McNair Program." She is now at the Administration and Evaluation Psychology Post-Doctoral Fellowship at the University of Colorado at Denver where she works as an Evaluation Researcher for the Colorado Division of Behavioral Health, Data and Evaluation Center.

Katrin Raymond, (Counseling) defended her thesis entitled "Older Adults' Beliefs about Suicide Risk and Protective Factors."

Nick Baez (Counseling) presented for the Annual CSU Diversity Conference, presentation entitled: "Latinos in Mainstream Media: Implications for Ethnic Identity Development."
